

BEFORE THE
STATE OF WISCONSIN
DEPARTMENT OF FINANCIAL INSTITUTIONS
DIVISION OF SECURITIES

In the Matter of,

DANIEL C. CUNNINGHAM and
PV WEALTH ADVISORS, LLC,

Respondents.

SUMMARY ORDER TO CEASE AND
DESIST, REVOKING EXEMPTIONS
AND IMPOSING RESTITUTION WITH INTEREST AND CIVIL PENALTIES

DFI Case No. S-238505 (EX)

I.

The Administrator of the State of Wisconsin, Department of Financial Institutions, Division of Securities (“Division”), having legal authority and jurisdiction to administer and enforce the Wisconsin Uniform Securities Law, Wis. Stats. Ch. 551 (“Ch. 551”) and rules and orders promulgated thereunder, and having determined that this action is necessary and appropriate in the public interest and for the protection of investors, hereby enters this Order as follows:

II.

Division staff have presented evidence sufficient for the Administrator to make the following findings of fact and conclusions of law:

A. Findings of Fact

Respondents

1. Daniel C. Cunningham (“Cunningham”) is an adult male resident of the State of California with a last known address of 2518 Loftyview Drive, Torrance, CA 90505. According to the Articles of Organization on file with the California Secretary of State, Cunningham is the sole managing member of PV Wealth Advisors, LLC.
2. PV Wealth Advisors, LLC (“PV Wealth Advisors”) is a California limited liability company founded by Cunningham with a last known address of 30021 Avenida Esplendida, Rancho Palos Verdes, CA 90275. PV Wealth Advisors is currently in suspended status.

Conduct

3. In 2014, Cunningham was self-employed through PV Test Prep, a business he owned and operated that provided tutoring services to high school and college students. He also had a website, DanielCunningham.com on which he held himself out as a Certified Financial Planner. This account was also linked to his Facebook page. Upon information and belief, these same credentials were mentioned on Cunningham's LinkedIn page as well.

4. Cunningham has never held a certified financial planner certification and neither Cunningham nor PV Wealth Advisors have ever been registered as investment advisers.
5. In about 2014, Cunningham met Dr. Christopher L. Leach ("Leach") (CRD# 5604046).
6. Dr. Leach was a cardiothoracic surgeon at Gunderson Lutheran Medical Center in Wisconsin for about 20 years. In October 2008, Dr. Leach became employed as an "investment advisory representative" at Poehling Capital Management, Inc. ("Poehling Capital") (CRD# 131668). His role at Poehling Capital was limited to facilitating the introduction of prospective investors to the firm and helping investors complete brokerage and account paperwork. Dr. Leach's employment relationship with Poehling Capital ended in 2014.
7. In about April/May 2014, Dr. Leach introduced Cunningham to Poehling Capital as a potential investment client. In the Information Questionnaire & Assessment Packet of Poehling Capital, Cunningham indicated that he had relatively limited experience with securities, noting his involvement with Securities (i.e. stocks, bonds, mutual funds, partnerships, etc.) to be limited to "DRIP" (Dividend Reinvestment Plan) stocks of Exxon, Merk, and GE, valued at approximately $4,000. For employment he was described as self-employed through Palos Verdes Test Prep, a business that provided tutoring services to high school and college students.
8. In August 2014, Dr. Leach notified Poehling Capital that he had a personal relationship with Cunningham and would be moving to Palos Verdes, California.
9. In September 2014, Dr. Leach moved to California to live with Cunningham whom he later married. Between September and December 2014, Poehling Capital and Dr. Leach negotiated the termination of Dr. Leach's employment.
10. In about October of 2014, Poehling Capital became aware that Cunningham was misrepresenting himself as a registered investment adviser on the internet. Poehling Capital also became aware that Dr. Leach had "liked" PV Wealth Advisors on Facebook and instructed him to remove it because Poehling felt it was a compliance issue. Neither Mr. Cunningham nor PV Wealth Advisors were registered with any state or federal securities regulators.
11. Investor KS is an adult female resident of Onalaska, Wisconsin and was formerly employed as a cardiac sonographer at the same hospital where Dr. Leach worked as a surgeon. KS has known Dr. Leach as a colleague and friend since 2000. Investor KS is not an accredited investor.

12. In 2010, KS incurred a work-related injury. She received a net worker's compensation settlement of $310,910 for her permanent disability. She also had saved retirement funds in the amount of $231,113.73.
13. In late 2014, KS, her husband, Dr. Leach and Mr. Cunningham had a Skype meeting to discuss her financial situation and to review her information. During the meeting, Dr. Leach and Mr. Cunningham represented to KS that they were starting their own business, PV Wealth Advisors, and that they would be honored to have KS as their first client. Mr. Cunningham told KS that he was an experienced investor and managed a lot of accounts.
14. In addition, through the PV Wealth Advisors page on FourSquare.com viewed by KS, KS saw that Cunningham held himself out as a Certified Financial Planner and a registered Investment Adviser. According to the PV Wealth page on Foursquare.com, "Daniel C." posted CFP and RIA images on July 12, 2014 and October 15, 2014 respectively. Cunningham did not disclose to KS that, in fact, Cunningham did not hold such a designation or registration.
15. On March 31, 2015, Dr. Leach emailed to KS a "Risk Tolerance Questionnaire" which Dr. Leach and Cunningham would use to develop an investment plan for KS. On April 5, 2015, KS emailed to Dr. Leach her answers to the Risk Tolerance Questionnaire which indicated the goal for her investments was moderate growth, and that she wished to trail the stock market and make a moderate profit. KS also indicated she would have a hard time tolerating any losses. Exhibit 1.
16. On April 7, 2015, with Mr. Cunningham's knowledge and consent, Dr. Leach transmitted via email an investment plan to KS's attorney for KS's worker's compensation settlement in the amount of $320,000. The cover letter was written on letterhead for PV Wealth along with the words "Private Client Services." Dr. Leach signed the letter and identified himself as an "Investment Adviser Representative." In the transmittal email, Dr. Leach stated "I have discussed these allocations with [KS] and she is comfortable with this dispersal." Exhibit 2.
17. At the time Dr. Leach transmitted the cover letter and investment plan to KS's attorney, he knew that neither he nor PV Wealth Advisors were registered as investment advisers and that holding himself out as an Investment Adviser Representative of PV Wealth was false. Dr. Leach and Mr. Cunningham believed the false representation of his credentials would persuade KS's attorney and the Worker's Compensation Division to allow PV Wealth Advisors to manage KS's investments.
18. The investment plan submitted by Dr. Leach to KS's attorney and the Worker's Compensation Division placed $310,910 of the settlement funds in large cap stocks such as GlaxoSmithKline Plc, Blackstone Group, Verizon and GE. The plan estimated that those investments would yield monthly dividends of $1,103, or an aggregate of $13,243 annually to supplement KS's income. There was no mention of margin trading in the investment plan.

19. On April 30, 2015, the Department of Workforce Development, Worker's Compensation Division, entered an order that the sum of $310,910 be paid to KS and PV Wealth Advisors to be invested, thereby resolving KS's worker's compensation claim.
20. KS understood that Dr. Leach and Cunningham were going to buy and hold stock in the companies listed in the investment plan and that they were going to follow her Risk Tolerance Questionnaire answers. Dr. Leach and Cunningham knew she was disabled, and that she was not comfortable with aggressive investments. Neither Dr. Leach nor Cunningham ever mentioned margin trading prior to the time KS entrusted her entire life savings to them.
21. As an unsophisticated investor, Investor KS completely relied on Dr. Leach and Cunningham's advice in making investment decisions. Based entirely on their recommendations as set forth in the investment plan, their touted credentials and experience managing the accounts of other investors, Investor KS allowed Cunningham and Dr. Leach to have full discretion in investing her entire savings of $542,023.73.
22. At the direction of and with the assistance of Dr. Leach and Cunningham, in June of 2015 KS deposited $542,023.73 at Charles Schwab, which included her entire worker's compensation settlement proceeds and her 401(k) funds.
23. KS authorized Mr. Cunningham to conduct trades in her Charles Schwab brokerage account in reliance on the written investment plan, to invest her funds conservatively and to supplement her income.
24. Contrary to the written investment plan provided by Dr. Leach and PV Wealth Advisors to KS, Dr. Leach and Mr. Cunningham convinced KS to allow Mr. Cunningham to trade options, including margin options.
25. Dr. Leach and Mr. Cunningham convinced KS to give Mr. Cunningham limited power of attorney ("LPOA") over her brokerage accounts at Schwab, so he could trade on her behalf. On June 22, 2015 and June 23, 2015, Mr. Cunningham and KS respectively completed the LPOA applications for her Schwab accounts. In the LPOA forms, Mr. Cunningham represented that he had extensive investment experience, but did not disclose that he was acting as an unregistered investment adviser through PV Wealth Advisors.
26. On June 23, 2015 and June 29, 2015, KS and Mr. Cunningham respectively completed the options trading and margin applications for the Schwab accounts. Mr. Cunningham touted himself in the applications as having "extensive" knowledge in trading stocks. Mr. Cunningham also represented that he had 20 years of trading experience, that he placed an average of 1,000 trades per year, and that his average amount per transaction was $20,000. Mr. Cunningham further represented himself to have "extensive" knowledge in options trading. Furthermore, Mr. Cunningham touted that he had four years of options trading experience, that he placed an average of 500 options trades per year, and that his average amount per transaction was $10,000.

27. Nowhere in the executed options/margin agreements did Mr. Cunningham disclose that he was acting as an unregistered investment adviser through PV Wealth Advisors.
28. Contrary to the representations of Mr. Cunningham to KS and Charles Schwab, Cunningham did not have extensive experience or knowledge regarding stock or options trading. Cunningham stated to Division staff via email that “Prior to meeting Chris [Leach], I did not even know how to open a brokerage account, let alone trade. Chris introduced this to me. My specialty was chemistry, math, and biology, which I went to school for.”
29. Mr. Cunningham, aided and abetted by Dr. Leach, proceeded to use KS’s funds to engage in a series of transactions involving options trading and margin that were far too risky for a disabled person with no other means of support.
30. In 2017, Dr. Leach and Mr. Cunningham recommended to KS that she move her funds from Charles Schwab to Fidelity. KS moved her funds to Fidelity as recommended, where Mr. Cunningham continued to make aggressive and unsuitable trades in KS’s accounts.
31. From approximately June 2015 to November 2017, when Mr. Cunningham had control over KS’s investments, KS sustained significant losses as a result of the aggressive trades.
32. In reviewing the Charles Schwab and Fidelity account records, Division staff determined that KS sustained trading losses as follows:

Total IRA Rollover and Worker’s Comp Settlement Invested as of June 2015	$542,023.73
Withdrawals by KS	$131,182.24
Total Ending Balance as of Dec. 2017	$216,104.12
Net Loss	-$194,737.37

33. Mr. Cunningham engaged in the following fraudulent conduct in connection with providing brokerage and investment advice to KS:
- Falsely represented himself and PV Wealth Advisors to KS to be an Investment Adviser;
 - Allowed Dr. Leach to falsely represent himself to KS and her attorney to be an Investment Adviser Representative of PV Wealth Advisors;
 - Falsely represented himself to KS to be a Certified Financial Planner;
 - Failed to inform KS that he was not an experienced investor;
 - Falsely represented himself to Charles Schwab as having extensive knowledge about trading stocks and options trading; and
 - Failed to inform Charles Schwab he was acting on KS’s behalf as an unregistered investment adviser through PV Wealth Advisors.
34. Based on the above, Mr. Cunningham and PV Wealth Advisors engaged in an act, practice or course of business constituting a violation of Wis. Stat. § 551.501(2).

B. Conclusions of Law

Legal Authority and Jurisdiction

The Administrator has the legal authority and jurisdiction over the conduct described above, pursuant to Wis. Stats. Ch. 551 and the rules and orders promulgated thereunder.

35. Pursuant to Wis. Stat. § 551.501(2), it is unlawful for a person, in connection with the offer, sale or purchase of a security, to make an untrue statement of a material fact or to omit to state a material fact necessary in order to make the statements made, in light of the circumstances under which they were made, not misleading.

Violations

36. Through the conduct described above, Cunningham violated Wis. Stat. § 551.501(2) when in connection with the offer, sale or purchase of securities, he made untrue statements of material fact and omitted to state material facts necessary in order to make the statements made, in light of the circumstances under which they were made, not misleading.

III.

In view of the above findings of fact and conclusions of law, the Administrator deems it necessary and appropriate in the public interest and for the protection of investors, and pursuant to its legal authority and jurisdiction under Ch. 551, to wit Wis.
